Actuaries as Trusted Advisors across Industries: Employee Benefits Consulting and Beyond

Besides the traditional role of pension valuations, the role of an actuary has expanded and evolved in consulting and advising on the areas of human capital and employee benefits customization, etc. The speaker will discuss the roles the actuary plays within these areas, as well as providing valuable insights to an actuary's role in the rapidly changing landscape of employee benefits consulting.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Mr. Mark Whatley is the Senior Consulting Actuary and Director, Benefits, Southeast Asia for Willis Towers Watson. Based in Singapore for the last 9 years, Mr. Whatley has provided consulting services on all aspects of employee benefit programs across South East Asia and has wide experience on benefits review and optimization, retirement plan design, actuarial modelling and valuation, benefits communication, and merger and acquisition related work including due diligence and post-deal benefits harmonization. He has worked with clients across a range of sectors and countries, including multinational companies, local firms and government-linked organizations.

Before joining Willis Towers Watson, he headed up the life and health actuarial team for Swiss Re in Singapore, with responsibility for reinsurance pricing and providing actuarial and product development advice to life insurance clients across South East Asia. Before this, Mark was responsible for the life and pensions operations of a leading life insurer in Mauritius. Prior to moving overseas, Mark worked as a consultant for Mercer in London. Overall, Mark has over 21 years of experience in the area of employee benefits and insurance.

Mark is a Fellow of the Institute of Actuaries (UK) and is also a Fellow of the Singapore Actuarial Society. He graduated with a BSc (First Class Honours) in Mathematics with Russian from Queen Mary, University of London.

He has been married for 15 years and has 2 children aged 12 and 9. In his spare time, he enjoys travelling, photography and listening to a wide range of music. He keeps fit by playing tennis, running and swimming.
