I. The Actuarial Society of the Philippines

Mission Statement

We are the internationally recognized organization of actuarial professionals in the Philippines. We are committed to the standards of our profession, upholding the highest levels of integrity and competence.

As acknowledged experts in assessing risks and measuring their financial outcomes, we take pride in providing technical services to our stakeholders. As responsible members of society, we take a stand on issues that affect the public good.

We are a caring organization that provides a forum for the professional growth, social development and self-regulation of our members. We value mentoring as necessary to strengthen our Society and to continuously upgrade the expertise of our members.

We shall responsibly carry out these affirmations to foster the important role of the Actuarial Society of the Philippines in the larger global community.

Principles Underlying the Examination System

The Actuarial Society of the Philippines administers a series of self-study courses and examinations, in the fields of application of actuarial science, leading to Associateship and Fellowship qualifications. The principles underlying the examination system are as follows:

- a. To provide the actuary with an understanding of fundamental mathematical concepts and how they are applied;
- b. To provide the actuary with an accurate picture of the socio-demographic, political, legal, and economic environments within which financial arrangements operate;
- c. To expose the actuary to a broad range of techniques, their applications and limitations;
- d. To expose the actuary to a broad range of relevant actuarial practice;
- e. To develop the actuary's sense of inquisitiveness so as to encourage exploration unto areas where traditional methods and practice do not appear to work effectively.

In the administration of the system, it is understood that both the course of readings as well as the manner of administering examinations will be continuously studied and revised, as necessary, in order to incorporate advances in technology and changes in the environment in which the actuary is expected to operate.

Payment in cash is discouraged.

Refunds, Transfer of Fees

In no case will examination fees be refunded. Examinees who do not sit for exams for which they have enrolled will forfeit their fees.

However, examinees who find that they cannot sit for an exam for which they have enrolled as a result of illness or other legitimate reasons may request that their fees be transferred and considered as deposit towards the fees for a future examination.

A transfer charge of P100 will be assessed for each course. The deposit may be transferred to an examination to be held no later than one year after the original examination date. Requests must be in writing and must be received by the society no later than two weeks after the scheduled examination date. Requests received after this time will not be considered.

Ticket of Admission/Instructions to Candidates

The Examination Committee will mail each candidate a Ticket of Admission indicating the examination(s) for which an application has been submitted. Tickets of Admission will be mailed within two weeks before the date of the examination, except in the case of late registrants.

The ticket will contain the candidate's examination number which is to be written by the candidate on the examination(s) for identification purposes. The candidate should bring the ticket to the examination(s).

A candidate who does not receive his ticket of admission one week prior to the examination date or whose ticket of admission contains incorrect information should notify the Examination Committee through the secretary of the Actuarial Society of the Philippines, Ms. Anne Macasaet, at telephone number 892-0693.

Requirements for Admission to Test Center

In order to be admitted into a test center, a candidate must show his ticket of admission and positive identification. The candidate must present valid identification with both a signature and a photograph (Driver's license, school ID, office ID, passport) or two identification cards with signatures; at least one form should contain a physical description. Each candidate will be required to sign in upon admission to the test center. A candidate who fails to meet the requirements for positive identification or refuses to provide a signature upon entering the test center will not be permitted to write the examination.

Signatures on Exam Answer Sheets and Envelopes

Candidates are required to sign their answer sheets or envelopes. Candidates who turn in examinations without signing the statement on the answer sheet or envelope will not have the examination graded. The statement to be signed reads:

"I have neither given nor received assistance of any kind on this examination. I understand the examination is confidential and will not disclose its contents. This examination is being written with the understanding that if the answer sheet/envelope is returned unsigned, it will not be graded."

Envelopes for written-answer examinations will be opened by the Examination Committee secretariat; examiners and graders will receive information identifying candidates only by number.

Use of Calculators and Other Assistance in Writing Examinations

A candidate may not communicate with or obtain assistance from any other candidate during the examination nor may any books, papers or typewriters be brought into the examination room. Only the type of calculators described in the next paragraph may be brought into the examination room.

Calculators are allowed on all examinations. Only a calculator with the four basic functions, one memory, the square root and % function may be used. Only calculators that have keys that are silent when pressed will be allowed. No calculator which produces any sort of noise while in use will be allowed. Calculators should be battery-powered. The Society will not be responsible for providing power outlets nor will the Society be able to guarantee the required intensity of indoor lighting to power a solar-powered calculator. Questions will be set assuming access to a calculator of the approved type.

Examination supervisors are authorized to provide a substitute calculator, if available, in the event that a candidate's calculator malfunctions during the examination. However, supervisors will not provide a calculator for persons who neglect to bring a calculator of the approved type to the examination.

Persons using a calculator that is not allowed will have their examinations disqualified and their papers will not be graded.

Examination Results

Candidates receive individual statements of their examination results, usually within six to eight weeks after the examination date. A list of passing candidate numbers for that examination part will be available from the ASP Secretariat at this time. Several weeks later, a list of the names of passing candidates for that examination will be available from the committee.

The individual grades will be reported on a scale of 0 to 10. Passing grades will range from 6 to 10; failing grades from 0 to 5. In this scale, the interval is 10 percent of the score required to pass; for example, a grade of 5 means failing with a score at least 90% but less than 100% of the score required to pass. A grade of 0 does not necessarily mean that a candidate received no points, but rather that the candidate's score was less than 50% of the score required to pass.

Shortly after results are sent to candidates, lists of the names of all passing candidates are announced to Society members.

Examination sheets are not returned to candidates for any Society examination.

A "hotline" service begins once grades have been released and will be active for a week. A candidate may call the hotline and access his exam results by providing his candidate number. The system will provide only pass/fail results; no other information will be available. This hotline will not be in service at any other time during the year. The phone number and the person to call will be provided with your ticket of admission.

Lost Examinations

If a completed examination sheet is inadvertently lost or destroyed, the examination fee will be refunded. The Society assumes no other obligation and candidates must take all examinations subject to this understanding.

Defective Questions

Occasionally, through error or because of varying interpretations, a question appearing on the examination may be found to be defective. Examples of defects include: material typographical errors, ambiguities, and questions with test material not covered in the course of reading. Candidates who believe that a question is defective should write to the Examination Committee within two weeks of the examination date. The letter should explain in detail why the candidate thinks the question is defective. The Examination Committee will investigate all questions brought to its attention in this way, and may make allowance in the grading process, if appropriate. The Examination Committee may make use of the candidate's examination books to determine whether their scores should be adjusted. Correspondence not reaching the Society within two weeks after the examination date will not be considered by the Committee.

Confidentiality of Examination Records

The fact that a candidate has passed an examination for credit with the Actuarial Society of the Philippines is considered public knowledge. Any further information about the examinations taken or grades received by a candidate is available only to the candidate, to the Examination Committee Chairman and specific members as required for purposes of committee work. A candidate may, however, request in writing to the Society office that a designated person should receive such information.

Disciplinary Action

Candidates must not give or receive assistance of any kind during the examination. Any cheating, any attempt to cheat, assisting therein, or engaging in such conduct as listed below are serious violations and will generally result in the candidate's paper being disqualified, and other disciplinary action as may be deemed appropriate. Examples (not a complete list) of actions by candidates which may lead to disciplinary action are:

- a) Gaining access to examination questions before the examination
- b) Using an unauthorized calculator
- c) Looking in the examination book before the signal to do so is given
- d) Looking at another candidate's paper
- e) Enabling another candidate to copy from one's paper
- f) Any communication with another candidate during the examination
- g) Disturbing other candidates during the examination
- h) Consulting any other person, any books or materials inside or outside of the examination room during the examination period
- i) Making any changes in the answer sheet or book after the time has expired
- j) Copying questions or answers to take from the examination room
- k) Taking an examination booklet from the examination room
- l) Taking an examination for another candidate
- m) Arranging to have another person take an exam for the candidate
- n) Disclosing the contents of an examination to another person
- o) Presenting false information on an examination application

The Examination Committee will pursue any evidence that a candidate has cheated or failed to follow examination rules, either in letter or in spirit. Any irregularity or suspected violation will be investigated. The candidate may be asked to attend, or be offered the opportunity to have, a hearing convened by the committee. When a violation is confirmed, disciplinary actions may include, but are not limited to, disqualification of the candidate's examination paper and a prohibition against writing Society examinations for a specified period.

The Actuarial Society's rules and regulations concerning examination administration, including disciplinary action, are composed of the information in this Catalogue, as well as the information in the Instructions to Candidates mailed with the Ticket of Admission, the information on the covers of examination booklets, and the material read by the supervisors at the beginning of each examination. All candidates, on their applications for examinations, are required to read and sign the following statement: "I have read the rules and regulations concerning the examination(s) for which I am applying, and agree to be bound thereby."

These standards may seem stricter than those to which candidates are accustomed to in other examination environments. The Actuarial Society of the Philippines maintains these strict standards because the examinations are such a significant part of a candidate's career. Therefore, equitable administration of the examinations and enforcement of the highest standards of conduct cannot be emphasized too strongly. The conduct of the vast majority of candidates for the Society's examinations is of the highest quality.

IV. The Examination Committee

Organizational Structure of the Examination Committee

The examination program of the Actuarial Society of the Philippines is administered by its Examination Committee. Within this overall Committee, two types of units operate:

- a) The June and December examination subcommittees review the course of reading and recommend changes to the required texts and references, and are responsible for administering and grading the examinations.
- b) The secretariat of the Committee is responsible for handling the recordkeeping and correspondence functions of the committee.

Review and Development of Course of Reading

The course of reading is regularly reviewed by the Education and Eligibility Council. Both short and long-term goals for improvement are developed.

Although every effort is made to choose material which is presented clearly and unambiguously, errors may occur occasionally. Candidates who believe they have found an error in any study material should notify the Examination Committee of the Society so that any necessary corrective action may be taken.

Candidates should be aware that the Society continuously reviews the entire examination program vis-à-vis its long-term organizational goals.

Development of Examinations

Each examination is developed by the Fellows of the ASP who have been designated by the Board of Governors to serve as examiners for the season. The content of the examination is designed to test the candidate's knowledge of the subject matter as defined in the course Catalogue.

Every effort is made to ensure that the questions fall within the scope of the course of reading and that each question is answerable in the time allocated to it. Complete coverage of all parts of the course of reading is not practical for every examination every year, but the goal is to develop well-rounded examinations containing representative, high-quality questions which test the candidate's knowledge of the most essential parts of the course of reading. The examiners deliberate to determine which topics are critical and should be tested for each course.

In fellowship examinations, the candidate's ability to integrate his knowledge of the course materials with 'real world type' situation is tested. Trick questions are deliberately avoided, and the wording of each question is considered carefully to eliminate possible ambiguities.

A review of all examination questions is conducted by the Committee prior to the examination dates to assure their quality. In addition, the Committee evaluates the level of difficulty of the examinations to ensure consistency with examinations during the previous years.

Grading Process

Only the answer sheets determine the score. Marks on the examination booklet or the scratch paper will not be considered.

For written-answer questions, every effort is made to grade the answers according to completely objective standards. The anonymity of the candidates is fully preserved; subcommittee members see only a candidate number when grading an examination. Each examination subcommittee has a grading process to fit its own needs.

A subcommittee with a small number of papers to grade might work as follows:

One committee member would be assigned to grade each written-answer question. The grader starts with a grading outline which lists possible items that are relevant to the question and their numerical values set according to each item's importance.

The grader may give additional credit in recognition of a candidate's demonstrated overall grasp and understanding of the subject. All answers are measured against the grading outlines, to ensure that the same standards are applied to all candidates.

After grading the first few papers, the grader evaluates the grading outline in the light of responses. If there are additional items which deserve credit, the grader will then revise the grading outline and start over. Throughout the grading process, credit for items still not contained in the outline may be given.

After all papers have been graded, a conversion scale determines the score each candidate receives for that question.

Papers are retained for at most six months after the examinations to be available if questions or problems arise. After this, the papers are destroyed.

Determination of the Pass Mark

The objective of the examinations is to identify candidates who, as a pre-requisite to admission in the Society as a fellow, demonstrate adequate knowledge of the course of reading, based on standards that are formulated and applied consistently from year to year.

The Committee sets a passing mark prior to the examinations. Candidates are not graded in competition with other candidates

V. Suggestions for Candidates

Order for Taking Examinations

There is no prescribed order for taking examinations. However, all Fellowship examinations are constructed assuming that candidates are familiar with the material in the required Associateship readings.

Study Methods

Allocate sufficient time to cover each topic adequately. Allow for the length of the prescribed study material in your schedule. Maintain an interest in current developments. Knowledge of actual practice is often helpful. All material should be carefully studied.

Integrate material as you study. Compare programs, methods and so on. The more connections you can develop within the study material and between the study material and your other knowledge or experience, the keener your understanding and memory of the concepts presented will be.

Maintain contacts with other candidates and take advantage of the opportunity to discuss topics that you find difficult. Do not hesitate to consult established members of the profession in your own organization or elsewhere.

One good way to prepare for examinations is to pretend you are the examiner and to develop examination questions in order to gauge your understanding of the relative importance of the material presented.

Classes and Seminars

Most candidates either study by themselves or with a group that they have formed for the purpose. Other options are available. Some universities offer courses that closely parallel the course of reading prescribed by the Society,

Approaches to Writing Written-Answer Examinations

Written-answer questions are intended to elicit answers in essay and/or outline form. Numerical written-answer questions require extended numerical or formula solutions; the credit given is based not only on the correct results, but also on the steps used to derive these results.

Paper is provided at the examination room for your answers. You must take time to write legibly, since examiners can only give credit for what they can read.

Each written-answer question is assigned a specified number of points. The number of points indicates the relative weighting each question bears to the total examination and to the other questions, and suggests the relative time that you should spend on that question. Try to distribute the examination time over all questions and to limit consideration of any question to the time proportionately allotted to it. It will usually be more profitable to write at least a brief answer to a question for which you are relatively unprepared than to spend time refining an answer to a question on which you are well informed. No extra points are given for padding an answer.

At the time of the examination, read each question thoroughly. Before making any attempt to write out the answer, be sure to understand what is being asked and try to organize your intended answer. It is most important that you answer the question that is asked and avoid digressing to another subject. It may be helpful to write a brief outline before beginning the actual answer. Avoid repeating the question in your answer, as it will not add points to your score, and you may waste valuable time. You do not have to answer the questions in any particular order. Some candidates prefer to answer the questions in the order given, while others read over the entire page, warm up on a question that comes easily, and gradually work into the more challenging questions. However, your solutions/answers must be submitted in the order of the questions. The subcommittee will not grade solutions which are not presented in the proper order.

You may find it helpful to jot down on a piece of scratch paper ideas that come to mind concerning both answered and unanswered questions. You may answer questions in outline form provided the meaning is clear. Another acceptable technique is to use one sheet of paper for "advantages" and another for "disadvantages". This allows you to go back and forth from one page to the other, putting down items as they occur to you. Use as much answer paper as needed. An orderly presentation can do no harm, and additional pages may result in putting down further facts and considerations which earn additional credit.

If you feel that there is a better answer or approach than that indicated in the Course of Reading (e.g., because of recent changes in regulations), it is acceptable to write this answer, although you should state at the outset that your answer differs from the Course of Reading. Of course, if you can also indicate the answer or approach given by the Course of Reading, thus demonstrating to the individual examination committee that the assigned material was read and mastered, this may increase your credits. Once the maximum number of points on a question has been achieved, however, there is no advantage to adding more to an answer. Obscure interpretations should not be read into a question, for each question is designed to be straightforward. Try to cover all aspects of the question in the answer and include pertinent facts and details in the answer even if, based on practical experience, they seem obvious. However, including any facts and details not pertinent to the question will not earn any additional credit and will waste examination time. Do not enlarge upon any one point to the exclusion of others. Try to state both sides of a question where they are called for in an answer. If time permits, review all answers given.

Questions may cross subject lines. You can prepare for this by thoroughly understanding the interrelationship of the various subjects within each course.

Since each question is graded separately, each of your answers must be self-contained. An answer must not say, for example, "Part of my answer to question 1 is found in my answer to question 3." Also, EACH ANSWER MUST BE STARTED ON A NEW SHEET OF PAPER.

VI. Course of Reading

Introduction, Course of Reading

The following Course of Reading is a guide to those preparing for the examinations. The objective of the examinations is to test the candidates' ability to grasp the underlying principles and apply them in the solution of problems.

Every effort is made to keep the Course of Reading up to date. However, legislative or regulatory changes which would affect the answers to examination questions sometimes occur after the setting of the final Course of Reading. It would be useful to state also how the answer differs from the Course of Reading, if time permits.

If a paper or article from an actuarial or insurance publication is recommended for study, candidates should additionally study any discussions of the papers or articles published in the same volume, unless the Course of Reading or study notes indicates otherwise.

Candidates are generally expected to obtain their own copies of papers or articles referenced in the Course of Reading which are not study notes. However, if a candidate cannot locate a particular reference, the Society library can provide a copy of the required paper or article upon request. There is a fee for this service.

References to publications of the Actuarial Society of the Philippines, the Society of Actuaries of North America, the Conference of Consulting Actuaries, the Canadian Institute of Actuaries, American Academy of Actuaries and the Actuarial Standards Board are abbreviated in the Course of Reading as follows:

PASP Proceedings, Actuarial Society of the Philippines

TSA Transactions, Society of Actuaries of North America

RTSA Reports Transactions, Society of Actuaries, Reports of Mortality and Morbidity Experience

RSA Record, Society of Actuaries

PCCA Proceedings, Conference of Consulting Actuaries

PCIA Proceeding, Canadian Institute of Actuaries

AAA American Academy of Actuaries

ASB Actuarial Standards Board

Roman numerals indicate the volume and Arabic numbers indicate the pages of the reference, except in the case of RSA, in which Arabic numbers are used throughout.

Occasionally, it may be necessary to change the Course of Reading for an examination after the publication of this Catalog. Such a change will be announced in a special notice to be mailed with your Ticket of Admission. If there is any conflict between information contained in this Catalog and that announced with the Ticket of Admission, the latter will govern.

A "#" indicates a change in the Course of Reading such as new or revised study material, a new edition of a textbook, a shift of study material from one examination to another, or different chapter references from a previously used textbook.
